

Would you please consider letting the free conference line continue.

I enjoy listening to the news call. I get information from the community I moved from years ago. I also spend many lonely evenings listening to the singing call. Also I like to listen to church messages that is important to me. I hope this can continue.

WC Docket No. 18-155

Thanks
Beulah

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

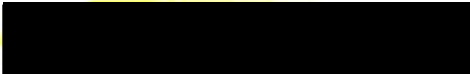

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Signed,

Your Name: Beulah Wise

Date: 12-4-18

Your Telephone number

'C Docket number 18-153 regarding: Updating the Inter-carrier Compensation Regime including conference calling services.

Please do not take away my Free conference calling. To call in on Conference line and hear somebody talking, hearing things like somebody had an accident, somebody died or is sick then died, people in FL., PA. Virginia, Ga. AR., IA. where ever.

Its so nice to call in to listen to a funeral service out of State and hear all of that nice spiritual singing and sermon, and listen to Weddings sermons, people from the church like to come together sing spiritual songs in IL, MO, AR different church groups, and put it on Conference line and people can call and listen to that nice singing. Also to school Christmas Program hear the school children sing about Jesus, from different church groups.

Also when in S.D. taking treatments, there over Sunday can call to Home Church services and listen to the church service.

This fall on way to S.D. was listening in on conference line with Hum (hands free) just to hear somebody talk to help stay awake while driving, have over 500 miles to go to S.D. one way for treatments. The treatments do help me. We are Amish Mennonite, we DO NOT have Radio and Television,

Thank you,

Lenora Hostetler

Dec. 8, 2018

WC Docket number 18-155 regarding: Updating the Inter-carrier Compensation Regime including conference calling services.

My husband & I are both Seniors and are clients of the conference lines. My husband has Parkinsons Disease. He is not able to work much anymore and it helps him pass the time. We can listen to Church Services or Weddings when we arent able to attend. If the unlimited calling would be discontinued we would miss out of a lot of communication as we are not financially able to pay for those calls

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Sincerely
Marilyn Kropf my husband
my husband

Dec 8, 2018

WC Docket number 18-155 regarding: Updating the Intercarrier Compensation Regime including conference calling services.

I want to thank you for granting us this freedom in the past and wish it could continue to be this way. I really find these conference lines inspirational and encouraging. It is a way to get your mind off of yourself and think of others, it is also a way to learn to know new friends, people from different communities. If this service is eliminated, I fear the unity it has encouraged and ~~many~~ many other blessings will be lost. Please consider this that we could continue to enjoy this freedom.

As a taxpayer, and a free conference calling client, I ask you to please reconsider acting on WC Docket No. 18-155. My free conference calling services are currently at risk of being completely eliminated and costing me, millions of others and our businesses.

I am urging you to refrain from eliminating services that I and millions of other Americans use regularly.

Long-distance carriers will not be negatively affected, financially or otherwise, if free conference calling services are left alone. In fact, they stand to gain upwards of $80 million.

However, if the FCC does decide to remove these services, I and millions of other American citizens and American businesses will be immediately and negatively affected. We will no longer be able to use these services for free and will instead be forced to pay for conferencing services provided by the long-distance carriers if we want to reach our non-profit organizations, our families, our churches, singing calls, news calls, prayer groups, support groups, board meetings, committee meetings, startups, schools, and global corporate communities and their families.

Widows and other lonely individuals are finding comfort in this type of free conference calling.

Do not take away my free conference calling services and further line the pockets of major long-distance carriers.

I ask the Federal Communication Commission to refrain from proceeding with its rulemaking in WC Docket No. 18-155.

Matthew L. Horst
Matthew L. Horst

[REDACTED]

12/04/18